

SEARLE GRAIN FLAX TROPHY

Hansen Is World Flax King

To the Vulcan County and the Harold Hansen farm at Ensign in particular has come the distinct honor of the world flax championship, won at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair last week at Toronto.

The telegram containing the good news was received by Mr. Hansen the morning of Nov. 12, and read, "Your flax awarded World Championship. Congratulations — W. P. Watson, Winter Fair".

From A. Searle Leach, president of Searle Grain Company Ltd. donors of the championship flax trophy has come the following telegram: "Heartiest congratulations from your friends in the Searle Grain Company on winning World Flax Championship at the Winter Fair. Understand you will be in Toronto for the presentation of the Searle Grain Co. award and it will be my pleasure to meet you then and make the presentation".

Harold Hansen and his wife Jeanette, had not planned taking in the Royal this year but news of their success changed their minds and they left Saturday for their first look at Toronto and world recognition.

The award carries with it a cheque for $100 and a silver tray. The trophy itself upon which Mr. Hansen's name will be engraved as winner for 1964 will be kept on display at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair buildings in Toronto. Further, a framed picture of the trophy will be presented to the winner.

The trophy was first presented in 1962 when it was won by R. P. Robins of Shaunavon, Sask. Last year, the award was won by John Cotton of Kenville, Man.

The winning sample was of Raja flax taken from an 80 acre field near the home buildings, four miles north and five miles west of Vulcan. The crop was planted about May 24 and harvesting was started Oct. 1. Harold made a few rounds of the field with the combine and took his sample from a part that looked best to him. This sample, about a pail full, occupied all the spare time of the Hansens for the next month in sorting and eliminating. (Continued On Page 6)

Rev. W. Dormer Speaker

Capacity Crowd At Annual Remembrance Day Service

"This should be a day of thanksgiving as well as a day of remembrance," said Rev. Wellington Dormer as he addressed a capacity crowd at the annual Remembrance Day service in the Vulcan Armouries, November 11. "We should be thanking those who gave their time and maybe their lives during the wars and those who are still doing it today, in order that we might enjoy what we now have."

Many sacrificed education, high positions and high remuneration to put on their country's uniform when the call came, said the speaker. Some of them died for us and it is those who gave their lives that we particularly honor on this day.

It is wrong to think that a third world war is inevitable, Mr. Dormer stated. We can overcome evil with good; war can be wiped out just as plaques have been wiped out and if enough effort is put forth to accomplish this aim the sacrifice of lives and years can be avoided in the future.

In charge of the Remembrance Service was Hon./Capt. R. J. Pelham, chaplain of "A" Company, The Calgary Highlanders, and minister of the Church of Christ. Other members of the Vulcan clergy participating in the service were Rev. Dormer of the United Church, Rev. Fr. G. Marlen of St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Rev. V. G. Cowell of St. Aldhelm's Anglican Church and Rev. L. A. Hale of the Pentecostal Church. Greetings from the Town of Vulcan were brought by Mayor M. R. Morrison. Rev. M. R. Heebner of the E.U.B. Church was guest speaker at the Remembrance Service at Champlain.

Hymns were led by the Community Choir under the direction of Mrs. W. Dormer and music for the hymns was by the Vulcan County Band, directed by Arthur Dee.

Taking part in the parade to the cenotaph in Memorial Park, were the County Band, members of the Royal Canadian Legion, members of "A" Company, Calgary Highlanders, the Vulcan Legion Cadet Corps, members of the Vulcan Elks patrol team, Scouts and Cubs. Parade marshal was Major R. C. R.

ROBERT WILSON

Friends of Robert Wilson will be interested to learn that he left on Nov. 2, from the Winnipeg International Airport for Cambridge Bay, N.W.T., where he will be employed by the Federal Electric Corporation. Previous to his departure he studied for seven weeks in Streator, Illinois, U.S.A. and visited with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Doug Wilson in Belleville, Ont. His many friends wish him success in his new venture.

Munro, with WO2 J. Main as parade sergeant-major.

During the short service at the cenotaph, wreaths were laid by representatives of the Vulcan Branch Royal Canadian Legion, the Legion Ladies Auxiliary, The Town of Vulcan, the Provincial Government, The Calgary Highlanders, the Vulcan Legion Cadet Corps, the Vulcan Lions Club, Vulcan Elks Lodge, Vulcan Kinsmen Club, the W.I.

Plan Foothills Crusade At High River

The Foothills Crusade Supper was held in the Memorial Centre in High River Monday evening, Nov. 16, 6:45 with approximately 175 from High River and the surrounding area gathered for the occasion. Rev. O. Snyder, the vice-chairman, MC'd the program and Rev. R. R. Cross, chairman, introduced the speaker Rev. Lowell Young of Calgary who was chairman of the Calgary Crusade For Christ approximately one year ago.

Those present were treated to vocal numbers by singers from Nanton, Calgary and High River. The Crusade with evangelist Barry Moore will start in High River Memorial Centre Dec. 8 and close Dec. 13. This will be a great inter-church crusade with all evangelical churches participating including most of the Vulcan churches.

Former Champion Resident Dies

A former resident of the Champlain district, Mrs. Mary Lawrence Loughheed died in Calgary on November 8, 1964, at the age of 85. Born in Presteign, England, she came to Canada in 1908 and lived in Lethbridge before moving to Winnipeg, where she was married to George Lawrence in 1914. The couple farmed at Winnipeg until 1928, when they moved to Champlain, where Mr. Lawrence died in 1934. In 1936 she married James Loughheed of Veteran and lived at Veteran, Okotoks and Calgary.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Minnie McQuarrie, Saskatoon; Mrs. Helen Barrie, Calgary; Mrs. Mabel Rehn, Red Deer; 11 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. A brother, William Steadman, lives at Innisfail and a sister, Mrs. T. Potts, in England.

The Northern Lights appear in the atmosphere at heights ranging from 50 to 500 miles-high.

The big game season was in its first few hours on Monday, Nov. 2 when the hillside fireworks out south-west of Nanton began to produce results. The Vulcan party above made a paying proposition of a one-day jaunt and returned with a healthy three-point bull elk whose live weight was 608 pounds.

Hartung and Tom Houlton while on the ground are Ken Houlton, Clay Snow and Don Houlton.

Who brought down the animal? Apparently the gang was grouped together at the time and this elk was scared back over a hill into their range by other hunters. Clay Snow, who figured he'd lost his hearing from the blast around him, claimed to have done the damage but others said his gun was almost blown from his grip by concussion and didn't think he'd got around to firing a shot. In any case, by the time the boys dole out the cuts that have been promised to friends there's not liable to be much more than a few elk-burgers and soup bones left.

Present lack of snow is still a problem to hunters.

Vulcan Lions Celebrate 20th Annual Charter Night

Elks Canadian Ruler At Vulcan For Installation

The Grand Exalted Ruler for Canada of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Sam Dare of New Westminster, B.C., was a visitor to Vulcan November 10 on the occasion of the installation of officers of Vulcan Elks Lodge No. 121. He was accompanied by Grand Lodge Trustee Naylor of Calgary and DDGER Bob Rainbow of Picture Butte.

Officers installed were: Dave Leback, Exalted Ruler; Walter Dann, Immediate Past Exalted Ruler; Earl Galloway, Leading Knight; Mel Burgess, Loyal Knight; George Gooch, Lecturing Knight; Harvey Robertson, Secretary; Vernal Haga, Treasurer; Roy McLennan, Inner Guard; Walter Stewart, Tyler; Bob Gerding, Esquire; Jim Clark, Chaplain; Harris Matlock, Historian and Publicity Director; Carson McKay, Organist.

The installation was conducted by DDGER Ernie McNaughton of Crossfield, assisted by Orville LeRohl and the Vulcan patrol team. Other guests were present from Crossfield, Staveland, Picture Butte, Lethbridge and Bassano.

The 20th annual charter night of the Vulcan Lions Club, held Friday, Nov. 13, saw 166 Lions, their ladies and guests enjoy a turkey supper, some top-flight entertainment and a dance at the Vulcan Lodge Hall.

Guest speaker was District Governor Herb Berland of Conrad, Mont., who also made presentations to charter members still active in the club and to Budd Andrews for 20 years of perfect attendance. Mr. Berland was introduced by Zone Chairman Bob Hubka of Carmangay.

Master-of-ceremonies for the evening was Charles Andrews, the invocation was given by charter member Fred Anderson and singing was led by Arthur Jones and Fred DeJong, with Eileen Haga at the piano.

Many visitors were present, all clubs in the zone except one being represented, and they were extended a welcome from the Town of Vulcan by Mayor M. R. Morrison. Roy Deal, president of the Vulcan club, extended a welcome on behalf of his club, and assisted in the presentation of awards.

A toast to the ladies by Howie Klippert was replied to by Mrs. Ruth Richardson, president of the Lionettes.

Vulcan's own Flitton family, now making Calgary their base, provided some first class entertainment. Songs by Linda Gay, tap dancing by Gary and Linda Gay and banjo and guitar selections by Ray, Linda Gay and Gary provided a fast-moving, crowd-pleasing program that was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

Dancing to the music of Dave Shearer's orchestra concluded the evening.

Date Set For Official Opening C.C. High School

Official opening of the academic-vocational County Central High School at Vulcan has been set for Wednesday, Dec. 16, it was announced this week.

The new vocational wing of the school, constructed this year, is now receiving the finishing touches and the older portion of the big school has been completely renovated. The cafeteria is expected to be in operation after the Christmas holidays.

The official opening ceremonies will likely be held in the evening of Dec. 16 and will be open to the public.

If we make the best of little opportunities, we find ourselves more able to accept larger ones.

Investigation Made

Hutterite Land Deal Now Attorney-General's Task

A Canadian Press report from Edmonton on Tuesday of this week states that a report on land-buying activities by Hutterites in the Brant district has been turned over to the provincial attorney-general's department for possible action.

Municipal Affairs Minister Hooke is reported as saying that a government investigation revealed Hutterites have made "no bones about the fact they're going to set up a colony in the area."

Land at Brant to the extent of 6,000 acres has been purchased in the names of individual members of the Rock Lake Colony at Wrentham. An investigation has been conducted by E. F. Breach, chairman of the communal property control board. Hutterites can purchase land as individuals anytime, but cannot establish a colony without the approval of the control board.

"The information obtained by Mr. Breach showed the Hutterites do intend to use the land for a colony," said Mr. Hooke.

The investigation followed a formal complaint made by 25 farmers of the Brant district after the land was purchased and occupied by the Hutterites, who earlier this year failed to win approval for establishment of a new colony on the same land.

A meeting to decide what action will be taken by the Vulcan district to participate in a conference on Hutterite expansion, scheduled for Red Deer, Nov. 30, will be held at the Vulcan high school auditorium on Wednesday, Nov. 25, at 2:00 p.m. The meeting, sponsored by the Vulcan District Chamber of Commerce, is open to the public.

John E. Larson Dies At Camrose

A well known oldtimer of the Lomond and Milo districts, John E. Larson died at Camrose on November 10, 1964. He was 77 years of age.

When Mr. Larson first came to Canada he homesteaded about 10 miles northeast of Lomond. In 1925 he moved to Milo and operated a livery barn and later became the Imperial Oil agent at that point. He became Imperial Oil agent at Vulcan a few years later and lived here until about 1957, when he retired and moved to Calgary.

Surviving are a sister, Esther, in Chicago and a brother, Carl, in Florida.

Services were held at Camrose on November 13.

H. R. Sportsmen's Dinner Successful

(By Peter Pickersgill)

Hitting an assignment which takes one back to the old home town for a free meal, fun and games and a reunion with old sports cronies of a generation back, is a rarity. So when the free ticket to the recent High River Chamber of Commerce Sportsmen's Dinner arrived, a night-out pass was obtained and in company of such sportsmen as Ray Wellman, Eugene McLean and later Frank Wythe and head table guest Glen Gorbous, the party was on.

The meal tag was worked out with an hour of serving at one of the refreshment stands before supper but it's a great place to try and match names with once familiar faces.

Minutes after the supper call 460 guests were seated on one floor of the Memorial Centre and fed immediately and with apparent ease, delicious helpings of barbeque beef. Some of our citizenry, convinced about Vulcan's Recreation Centre objectives, should have been there. It brings to mind the more recent local function where catering ladies were near tears and supper organizers aged years facing the near-impossible task of feeding 160 in crowded surroundings.

Those at the head table, whose gift of speech must have approached the sports talent for which they are famous, were: Rollie Miles, ex-Edmonton Eskimo; Bob Wylie, amateur golf; Bert Olmstead and Frank McCool, NHL hockey; Gary Beggs, Olympic hockey; Herb Capozzi, general manager Vancouver Lions; Stu Beagle, Blackie currier; Pat Mahoney, general manager Calgary Stampede and Glen Gorbous of major league baseball fame.

Brother-in-law Eldon Couey, farmer-auctioneer, was MC and though his spraddle-stance in baseball's infield kept him out of the big leagues, his talent before the microphone indicated where his abilities lie.

The somewhat serious word by first speaker Bert Olmstead on the value of sports to the youth of Canada and a boost for amateur golf given by Bob Wylie of Calgary gave way to the start of an hour of laughter generated by Rollie Miles, Herb Capozzi, Frank McCool and the Rev. Msgr. Athol Murray, head speaker of the (Continued on Page 7)

LADIES SUNSHINE CLUB

The Ladies Sunshine Club held its Nov. 11, meeting at the home of Mrs. Gladys Fulton with eight members and two visitors answering roll call. What I do in my spare time.

The meeting was brought to order by repeating the creed. Correspondence was light. It was decided to discontinue financing the adopted child in Korea at present, due to lack of funds. Dec. 12 was the date set aside for the Christmas party to be held at the Redlandview Hall. A "500" card party is to be held at the hall on Dec. 4.

The annual meeting was tabled until the December meeting which is to be held at the home of Mrs. Donalds Giles on Wednesday, Dec. 9. Each member is to take a Christmas gift for her secret pal and reveal her name.

The tea raffle was won by a visitor, Mrs. Marjory Schneider.

A very pleasant afternoon closed with the hostess and her helpers, Mrs. Gladys Marie Fulton serving a very tasty lunch.

A community party was held at the Redlandview Hall on Friday, Oct. 23, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cutforth, on their recent marriage. It was sponsored by the Ladies Sunshine Club. Nine tables of court whist were played with winners being: Ladies high, Howard Burrell; mens high, Ed Richardson; ladies low, Clara Love, and mens low, Gerald Cutforth.

The honored couple was seated at the head table with a beautifully decorated cake and candles. Kay and Allan Giles sang, May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You, accompanied by their father Neil Giles at the piano. On behalf of the community Max Kehr presented them with a beautiful nest of stools, and a purse of money with which they later bought a steam and spray iron.

A very enjoyable evening closed with a sumptuous lunch and the singing of For They are Jolly Good Fellows and Auld Lang Syne.

TROUSSEAU TEA

A trousseau tea was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cutforth in honor of Mrs. Bill Cutforth on the afternoon and evening of Oct. 5.

U. C. W. MEETING

The November meeting of the Brant United Church Women was held in the church hall with the first vice-president, Mrs. Phyllis McDonald in the chair. An Armistice devotional was led by Mrs. Jean Olsen. The theme was that True Peace comes from God.

The women voted to buy 12 new chairs for the Sunday School. If anyone has any used clothing with six months wearing condition, it can be left at the church to be sent for needy families.

Mrs. J. Henderson then chaired the annual election of officers. The new slate is as follows: President, Mrs. Una Burley; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Charlotte Green; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Jean Olsen; secretary, Mrs. Sophia Jorstad; treasurer, Mrs. Dolores Payce; manse committee, Mrs. Eva McKay and Mrs. Phyllis McDonald; supply committee, Jean Olsen and Dolores Payce; sick convener, Mrs. Carol Jackson; program committee, Mrs. Eva McKay and Mrs. Phyllis McDonald; press, Mrs. Inez Prater.

The program was selections read from the United Church Observer and facts from the Observer Handbook. This was conducted by Mrs. J. Henderson.

A delicious lunch was then served by Mrs. Carol Jackson and Mrs. Phyllis McDonald. Mrs. Charlotte Green was hostess.

HOME AND SCHOOL

The Brant Home and School Association met at the school on Nov. 4. Following a brief business meeting Mrs. Elaine Hall reported on the Workshop which she had attended in Banff. She quoted provincial president, Mrs. G. A. Garbutt, as stating that Home and School is the only lay group which directs all of its resources toward the betterment of education for all children, and that there is a great need for an informed membership.

Mrs. Hall also reported that Home and School has direct representation on all curriculum committees under the department of Education and on the Alberta Advisory committee on Educational Research. Several workshop sessions dealt with program planning. Fields in which Home and School has an influence are: Research in Education, improved library services, curriculum changes, and alerting the public to changes in education. Mrs. Hall's report was the most informative.

Miss Beverly Thorp then introduced the Primary teacher, Mrs. C. L. Knapp, who explained the teaching of mathematics in the school today. Also assisting Mrs. Knapp in interpreting the mathematics program were Mrs. Connan and Mrs. Ball. A good attendance of parents and their contribution to the discussion following were evidence of their interest in the subject. The parents learned that the new method of teaching gives the student a more thorough understanding of the processes involved and provides a better basis for the more difficult mathematics courses in the higher grades. Mrs. Ball suggested that parents interested in learning more of the mathematics course being introduced soon in Junior High might wish to view a program on the subject at 8 A.M. on Tuesdays and Fridays on T.V., Channel 4.

On December 2, the guest speaker at Home and School will be Mr. E. Hawkesworth, speaking on the subject "Interpreting my Child's Report Card." This program was postponed previously due to a change in date and, by popular request, was planned for December. A large turnout of parents is anticipated.

Mrs. Ira Rhodes reported that during the past year 237 articles have been completed. In her capacity as sick convener, Mrs. S. Graham, has mailed out 72 cards in the past year.

Re-elected by acclamation, last year's slate of officers who will serve Red Cross in their respective positions are: President, Mrs. A. Eliuk; vice-president, Mrs. H. Bateman; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. S. Dixon; work-convenor, Mrs. I. Rhodes; sick convener, Mrs. S. Graham; blood transfusion service, Mrs. D. Schultz; disaster, Mrs. L. K. Another grandson R. D. MacDonald near Brant and granddaughter Jean (Mrs. Clayton McClelland of Calgary) were unable to be present for the picture.

Jessie MacDonald came with her husband Donald and son D. A. MacDonald from Oregon in 1909 and settled on the farm which is still operated by R. D. MacDonald. For the past several years she has lived at High River and was predeceased by her husband in 1962. She is still in good health, with a keen and cheerful sense of humor, and still takes an active interest in her family and town life.

Five Basic Needs

Some of us live to work, and all of us must work to live — which lends some importance to the question: What basic needs must be satisfied to guarantee a willing and productive worker?

According to job motivation experts there are five:

- (1) Economic Security— equitable financial rewards for service rendered.
- (2) Emotional Security— self-confidence resulting from an employee being in the right job and "belonging."
- (3) Recognition— credit for accomplishments, a pat-on-the-back for a job well done.
- (4) Self-expression— the need to communicate to superiors ideas, suggestions, fears, opinions.
- (5) Self-respect— the need to be treated as an individual, not a "hired hand" or a number on the payroll.

Reid Hill W.I. Re-elects Officers

Mrs. Frieda McRoberts was hostess to the November meeting of the Reid Hill W.I. held Thursday, Nov. 12. Thirteen members were present and the punctuality draw went to Mrs. Fred Schuler.

The president, Mrs. John French presided and was assisted by secretary, Mrs. Jack Marshall and treasurer, Mrs. C. L. Kuykendall. A letter from Miss McLaughlin, handicraft convener requests representation from the branch at a meeting to be held in the County Office, Tuesday, Nov. 24, at 10:30 a.m. Mrs. McRoberts and Mrs. Percy Myers agreed to represent Reid Hill at this time.

Other correspondence was light and routine. Committee reports were given by Mrs. Kuykendall on the recent wedding reception catering and on the bake-sale and bazaar. All showed a very satisfactory profit.

Roll call was answered with suggestions for the new programs and some useful ideas were received.

At this point Mrs. Clifford Love was asked to take the chair and conduct the election of officers for 1965. All vacancies were filled by acclamation with Mrs. John French going back as president, Mrs. Earl Deal as vice-president, Mrs. Jack Marshall, secretary and Mrs. Kuykendall, treasurer. Directors remained the same as last year, with the board being: Mrs. E. G. McPherson, Mrs. C. Love, Mrs. P. Myers and Mrs. J. C. MacMillan. A hearty vote of thanks was given all members, who had served so well this year and were willing to assume the same duties for the next term.

Mrs. Schuler conducted a fine program, with a contest "Making Your Christmas Pudding" proving most interesting, and this was won by Mrs. Sales.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess to conclude a most pleasant afternoon. Mrs. Marshall will entertain the branch at the December meeting.

Hansen Wins Flax

ating broken and inferior kernels. Even three-year-old Darlene had a set of tweezers at the job occasionally but was politely restrained by her parents.

Mr. Hansen gives most of the credit of his success to the help of his wife, "My right hand" and his family and also the assistance of Clarence Roth, Vulcan D. A. and Sherman Yelland, Senior Inspector of Plant Products of Calgary, who has given Harold guidance on grain samples.

For the past several years the Hansen name has been prominent in Calgary and Lethbridge seed fairs. Mr. Hansen first showed registered grain in 1960 but had entered open competition for years previously. Interest in showing was aroused by the participation of his eldest son David who in 4-H work in 1957 took a second at the Toronto Royal for wheat in the 4-H section. In 1962 Harold took first in malting barley section at Calgary Seed Fair and the following year placed second in the same category. Also that year he took third place for wheat and reserve grand for flax at the Toronto Royal and took championship flax at the Brandon Fair.

Earlier this year Harold placed second at both Calgary and Lethbridge Seed Fairs in the wheat class and also placed third in barley in Lethbridge.

Other exhibitors in the family are Marilyn (Mrs. Richard Lebsack) and Donald.

In the comparison of wealth production by provinces in Canada, the same ranking applies to the total net value of the production of all industries as applies to the ranking by population totals.

Sparks Fly At Brief Power Line Hootenany

The wise old owl in the old oak tree recently became a stupid owl on a Calgary Power line and got a 7,620 volt jolt for his troubles.

Andy Nafziger, pictured above with the victim, noticed an interruption in TV and electric lights about 8 p.m. the night of Nov. 6, and when he checked outside with a flashlight he found the owl by the power pole, very dead and minus both feet, burned completely off by the current.

Nearby was a hen pheasant which Andy presumes was to have been the owl's evening snack and which may have received some of the electricity.

The owl has been a neighbor to the Nafzigers, eight miles north-east of Vulcan, all summer and was described by one viewer as a great horned owl, somewhat rare to these parts. It weighed just over four pounds and had a 48 inch wingspread.

The actual claws on the one foot which was found were an inch and a half in length and had a grip spread of about three inches.

A year ago the Nafzigers made a pet of a horned lark which was brought to their home with a broken wing by a hunter. It recovered sufficiently to hop around the home and was as much a pet as are tame budgies. The couple kept it last winter but one day the bird lay dead. It had grown fat from table scraps and Andy feels their generosity with food may have been its undoing.

H.R. Sportsmen's Dinner Big Success

On his feet first, Rollie Miles lost no time in digging Stampeder representatives, his own lowly Eskimos and particularly Herb Capozzi of the Lions.

When his turn came Capozzi opened his own onslaught, mostly aimed at his friendly opponent, but with enough asides to other personalities and enough local slant to keep the crowd completely entertained. In his serious moments he intimated youngsters hadn't changed from earlier generations but maybe adults had strayed from their responsibilities of giving help and leadership in all fields of youth activities. "It's wonderful to meet people who can laugh," he said in conclusion. A houseful of fans agreed.

Pat Mahoney, General Manager of the Calgary Stampeder, reviewed the business and of football and took to task the provincial government's ban on Sunday football and the fact that Alberta clubs cannot take advantage of revenue through sponsorship by liquor outlets. He claimed Canadian football is being sold as a Sunday entertainment package on TV to the Eastern United States and he felt it shameful that Alberta is being left out of this type of provincial exposure. Eastern teams, through modified liquor laws, are able to gain great financial advantage through this source which Alberta clubs cannot.

The first calamity in his major league baseball when he fell on a sloping outfield while chasing a short fly-ball was colorfully described by Glen Gorbous and the curler's poem recited by Stu Beagle was also enjoyed.

Frank McCool paid tribute to the Blayneys, Robertsons, Arnolds, Deoras and others of High River's early days of sports — most of them present — whom he looked upon as his idols when he was a youngster barely able to see over the side of the rink.

In a short but emotional and straight-forward criticism of Canada's ills and their root Msgr. Murray of Notre Dame College, Wilcox, Sask., said Canadians don't always, but should rejoice in being fortunate to live in this country. "Our history is grander and more exciting than any other country. Too many people have a fear of getting involved. What the Stars and Stripes mean to the United States, the Crown is to Canada," said the speaker. In Msgr. Murray's view much of Canada's separatist trend could be cured by more active participation in sports by French Canadians through which people have a better chance to really know their neighbors.

Carl Goodkey Dies Suddenly

An employee of the County of Vulcan public works department, Carl Goodkey of Brant died suddenly at his home on Thursday, Nov. 12, 1964. He was 51 years of age.

Born at Halkirk, Mr. Goodkey farmed at Castor and at Vulcan. He was a member of the Royal Canadian Legion. Surviving are his wife, one son, two sisters and two brothers. Services were held at Halkirk on Tuesday, Nov. 17. The Vulcan Funeral Home was in charge of forwarding arrangements.

GREEN ACRES

CLARENCE ROTH,
District
Agriculturist

TEST FERTILIZER FIRST

Farmers are advised to check all new fertilizer types and formulations before using them in large quantities.

Although fertilizers are continually being tested by research stations and must be registered for sale under the Fertilizers Act, there is no guarantee they have been tested under Alberta conditions.

According to A. W. Goettel, Assistant Supervisor of Soils and Weed Control with the Alberta Department of Agriculture, research work has shown that the common granular fertilizer formulations now on the market are providing the necessary plant food. However, fertilizers with certain additives, claimed to prevent loss by leaching, have not been proved under Alberta conditions. The application of plant food to cereal crops leaves has shown some response but is not economical in this province.

Mr. Goettel advises farmers to check the results of new fertilizers with their District Agriculturists, nearest Experimental Farm, the University of Alberta's Soils Department or the Field Crops Branch of the Department of Agriculture. Fertilizer returns, he says must be greater than their cost for profitable results. Sometimes another type of fertilizer than the one being used will give the same response at a lower cost per acre.

Ronald McGrail returned home on Friday from San Antonio, Texas, where he had been visiting his grandmother for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Del Sawin and family of Delia, Alta., renewed acquaintances in the district over the weekend.

HUTTERITES

By C. W. Downey, Castor, president of the Paintearth Community Association
(Reprinted from the Edmonton Journal)

Most people in the southern half of our province are familiar with the people dressed in black. To some urban dwellers they mean fresh farm produce sold from door to door.

To others, they are symbolic of farming itself. But to the majority of people who are not concerned directly with agriculture, they are just another somewhat unorthodox group.

However, to the rural Albertan who may have from one to six Hutterite colonies within his own county, they constitute a problem worthy of considerable thought.

The Hutterites, an ethnic group, deriving their living solely from agriculture, live in much the same manner and by the same standards as their founder, Jacob Hutter, laid out for them nearly four-and-a-half centuries ago.

They have practised their communal living through the centuries in many countries. But each time they were eventually rejected — and ejected because their beliefs would not allow them to become part of the current society. As well, there was the pressure their communal living brought to bear on the individual farmer.

This may seem, and has often been called prejudice, either on a racial, religious or just minority group basis.

The fact that efforts to bring these people into our basic economic and social system have often been branded as prejudicial, or contrary to basic human rights, has served the furtherance of their way of life more than it has accomplished in regard to their assimilation into ours.

Many people refer to the Negro problem in the United States, and other minority, religious or ethnic group problems everywhere, as being the same as our "Hutterite Problem."

But there is one basic difference. In the case of the Southern Negro, and most groups, they want the same rights and privileges as other men. They want to be taken into society for what it offers, whether it be better or worse.

In the case of the "Hutterian Brethren" however, we have a group of people who for four-and-a-half centuries have resisted all efforts to "be as other men," who after living in our province for almost 50 years, refer to their neighbors as living in the "outside world."

Slave parallel

I have heard the parallel drawn between our present situation in Alberta and that of the pre-Civil war days in the Southern States.

In those times, a plantation-owner who had slaves was generally a wealthy man. In the majority of cases, he treated his slaves well, fed them well, cared for them throughout their lives. For only in this way could he be assured of getting the most from them.

However history tells us that a white farmer at that time who could not afford slaves was worse off than a slave by far: he did not even have the security of slavery.

It was his lot to toil in the fields from sun-up to sun-down to compete with his produce against the plantation and slave system. If he could not produce enough on his small holdings to keep his family, and consequently had to get a job, he would have to compete at the equivalent of a slave's maintenance or less.

Abraham Lincoln of this situation, said: "Our two societies cannot exist together, we must be either all slave or all free." And so the Civil War was fought with the ensuing abolition of slavery.

THEIR DEFENDERS DECRY PREJUDICE AND APPEAL TO BASIC HUMAN RIGHTS, SAYS C. W. DOWNEY OF CASTOR. BUT WHAT ABOUT THE RIGHTS OF OTHER PEOPLE?

Why?

In comparing the "Hutterian Brethren" with this situation, we must look at two obvious reasons for their members' staying with colony life:

Education: While their schools must fulfil the provincial minimum education standard of a child attending school until he reaches grade eight or the age of 15, whichever comes first, this does not tell the whole story.

Within colonies, no stress is put on academic achievement, and I quote now from the province of Alberta's "Report of the Hutterite Investigation Committee," 1958, "Both before and after public school hours, children receive instruction from a German teacher in the German language, the scriptures and the Hutterian doctrine. Counter-indoctrination by the colony minister, the German teacher and parents further retard the work of the day school."

The report also mentions that in Hutterite schools 75.73 per cent of the pupils are retarded in regard to school grade. To summarize, we find the bulk of colony members not attaining an educational standard above the grade four or five level.

Purchasing Power: The individual in the colony is paid no wages. His share in the operation is something he cannot take with him should he decide to leave.

In order to retain security he must stay in the colony, which will virtually look after him from the cradle to the grave.

Thus we have the individual staying with colonies because: 1. Indoctrination to this way of life in the formative years; 2. an education system geared to keeping him in a position where it would be difficult to compete in a modern society; and 3. no purchasing power placed in the hands of the individual colony member.

Now the problem comparable to the one Lincoln saw:

On the one hand we have a society almost self-sufficient. Spending is confined to only basic agricultural operating expense. They possess great reserves of cheap manpower, coupled with the latest technological advances in the agricultural field.

Along with this, they have the additional aid of complete exemption from the Estate Tax Act (due to their incorporation into the Hutterian Church). And until recenty, while not excluded from the Income Tax Act, for all practical purposes they could be considered tax-free.

This leaves them in the enviable position of being able to funnel all their considerable income into new colony expansion.

Free men?

On the other hand, we have the conventional free enterpriser, the rancher, the farmer, striving to improve his standard of living above a subsistence level.

He had no manpower reserves save his own or what he may hire. He has no credit other than regular business channels with the resulting interest payments. He is subject to estate tax at the takeover of every generation. He is constantly subject to the full force of the Income Tax Act.

He is trying to maintain what he can of his rural culture and business facilities by way of supporting his local merchants, co-op seed cleaning plants, churches, clubs, and so on, and in so doing enabling other families to live also.

It is not difficult to project to the future 50 or 60 years hence, and seeing this communal system, if allowed to expand uninterrupted, as being an almost exclusive agricultural monopoly in this province. The problems arising from this may well dwarf the ones of today.

With a short-circuiting of local merchants, and direct wholesale buying, along with a dwindling conventional farming population, rural business centres could be reduced to simply grain-buying agencies and post offices.

Monopoly?

With a large area of our cultivated lands in the hands of one organization, the segment of the tourist industry that depends on the hunting of migratory birds and upland game could be affected.

Market control over basic commodities could take place, to the disadvantage of the consumer. The end result of a monopoly over a basic product is always disastrous.

Must we sit back while our governments sweep an issue of these dimensions under the rug?

Must we let every community in our land be subjected to the emotional storm that land sales to the "System" create?

Or will we do something now before this "Test Tube" problem of today becomes the "Frankenstein" of tomorrow?
